The AUDID LLTA

The Learning, Teaching and Training Activity (LLTA) took place online in Athens, as originally foreseen, due to the global situation of the covid-19 pandemic. The partners met on the 4th May 2020 online with the purpose to train the trainers on interactive activities related to the core topics of AUDiD and aiming to engage the participants in online piloting workshops. The LLTA offered a great occasion to test interactive ways to with enthusiasm during the introduce and deliver the modules prepared by each partner and to exchange methods, views and expertise among trainers and trainees. The LLTA validated the 3rd iteration of the Design of a the training methodology aiming to enhance critical thinking along with online based peer learning, reflection and micro-learning (3 iterations). The results of this training will be used subsequently for the pilot period. All the trainers and participants engaged proactively and planned presentations of the Modules: quizzes; blended-classroom approach and other interactive tools and methods were tested and validated, contributing to the aim of training the trainers on ways to teach and transmit knowledge to the target groups. Moreover, the LTTA included a detailed presentation of the Dynamic Demonstrator, the Open Badges and the Audid Academy.

The Piloting Activities

Piloting activities are now taking place in the countries of AUDID consortium. The piloting seeks to validate the results and product of the project while providing visibility to the Academy. The materials, the methodology and other products will be tested with adult learners and senior educators. Stay tuned on the website (<http://audid.eu/>) and Facebook page

The AUDID Academy

It is an online active community, a dedicated virtual space hosting all the projects products, results, activities and resources for sharing knowledge and experiences with the wider area of Online Identities and Internet Safety. The Academy's structure and specificities were discussed during the LTTA online. The Academy is dedicated to educators, adult trainers, senior learners and whoever is keen to share knowledge and awareness on online safety! The Academy will be the place to find the curriculum and online tools to facilitate the understanding of risks associated to with emerging online identities; a precious resource not only for educators and adult learners but for any enthusiast of the project and its goals.
