- The validation workshops
- The Multiplier events
- The exploitation of the project

The validation workshops

The validation workshops took place in each country of the consortium. The workshops aimed at piloting the products, materials and tools created by AUDiD project. Workshops were organised by every partner for officially launching the project's outcomes: they represented a great opportunity for trainers, students, learners and educators to test and practice the Delivery Environment, the Modules, The Dynamic Demonstrator, the Open Badges system and the AUDiD Academy (www.audid.eu/welcome-to-the-audid-academy). Due to the current restrictions to gatherings and meetings, validation trainings run mainly online. Nevertheless, such workshops were warmly appreciated by participants due to their engaging contents and interactive sessions. The partners had as well as the occasion to practise for the multiplier events, the next step in AUDiD's exciting journey!

The Multiplier events

The Multiplier events are being organised nowadays in all the countries of the consortium. In some countries such events are face to face while in some others, due to the pandemic situation of covid-19, they are virtual events. All the products and tools of AUDiD are covered by the agendas of the events and particular emphasis is put on the Academy: this one is a dedicated virtual space, an online active community targeting educators, adult trainers, senior learners and whoever is keen to share knowledge and awareness on online safety(www.audid.eu/welcome-to-the-audid-academy).

The goals of the multiplier events are to promote the project and train targeted groups on its tools and produced items. The focus is on creating awareness about the topics covered by AUDiD and attracting the attention of adults and adult educators in order to validate in real conditions the results of the work done so far by the consortium. The new interactive multimedia curriculum for adults and adult educators, the Dynamic Demonstrator to enhance understanding of risks associated to emerging online identities, the Learning Motivation Environment to deliver the training, the trainer's guide for the adult trainers, the Skills and Achievement Recognition Framework based on the Open Badges and the AUDiD Academy -a single entry point to all the resources and tools of the programme- are the core of the agendas for the multiplier events.

The exploitation of the project is a delicate yet fundamental phase for the sustainability and success of the project's aims and objectives. The consortium is aware of its importance and therefore it is implementing and planning a set of further activities, events, meetings and roundtables in each country to promote AUDiD and its outcomes. The channels are various given the variety and richness of the composition of the consortium: Schools, Education providers, NGOs, Associations, Private sector, and many other communities and stakeholders are and will be reached for this purpose. Each partner organise a series of events and activities linked to the topics of online safety and digital identity and sponsors the adoption of AUDiD's products even after the end of the funding. Be always up to date on those interesting activities by visiting the website (www.audid.eu)!
